The bitter contest for Senator in Tennessee, with three candidates expressing confidence in the outcome, will come to an issue next Saturday. The candidates are Senator Luke Lea, M. R. Patterson and K. D. McKellar. Unless the victor secures a majority of all the votes, he must have a run-off with his nearest contestant. Patterson is running on a statewide prohibition platform. Patterson is a finished orator while Lea is a close organizer. The ousting of Lea's friends, Howse and Crump, Mayors of Nashville and Memphis, has been a severe blow to him. McKellar's plea is that he belongs to no faction and can win if nominated, but the opinion is that the run-off will be by Lea and Patterson, with Patterson the stronger.

CLARKSVILLE EASY MARK

High School Administered Fourth Defeat, a Crushing One.

SCORE 32 TO 7 AT THE END

Disabled Players Back In Game and Victory Was Soon Achieved.

Today joy reigns in the camp of the Orange and Black and another wildcat pelt adorns the walls of our beloved high school. But over the little city on the Cumberland hangs a heavy cloud of gloom, for Saturday afternoon the defenders of Hopkinsville's honor trod rough-shod over the Tennessee squad.

Long before 2:30 the crowd began to assemble and soon the Clarksville team came on the field amid the cheers of their backers. Just before 2:30 our boys trotted in and then we showed Clarksville what we thought of them and everybody else.

Captain Roberts lost the toss and Clarksville received the kick at the north goal. By a series of line plunges and end runs they scored a touchdown in the first few minutes of play. They kicked goal. The Clarksville rooters went wild and acted as if they already had the game.

High school came right back and scored a touchdown on a twenty yard run by Oldham. Breathitt failed to kick goal. The ball changed hands several times but the play remained in the mid-field and the first half ended with the score 7 to 6 in favor of Clarksville.

Refreshed by the short rest and encouraged by coach Mallory's words our boys came right back the last half and literally wiped Clarksville off the map. On the first two plays Moseley ran sixty yards for a touchdown. Thereafter touchdown followed touchdown until the game ended 32 to 7 with H. H. S. carrying off the honor.

To Capt. "Light" Roberts goes the glory. Playing with a bone in his leg just healed from a clean fracture he ran the team like the all-western quarterback that he is. Brown at full covered himself with glory. His passes were like rifle shots in speed and accuracy and his defensive playing was wonderful to see. Then there was Moseley and Oldham, backguard Breathitt. What more need we say than that they played? Everyone knows their record.

But there is one individual to whom special notice should be paid—Pet Fentress, the lanky utility man of H. H. S. Throughout the season he has played end, left guard, left and right tackle. Pet deserves all the praise he gets. Also we must not forget the playing of Harris, Miller, Torian and Hill. Harris had no trouble with the Clarksville backs and Miller, although a Freshman and a new man, played like a veteran. Torian and Hill played their old time game, and that means as good as anybody's game.

For Clarksville Adwell on right end played the best game.

Between halves the Clarksville rooters attempted a snake dance over the field, but the loyal supporters of H. H. S. surrounded them and ran rings around them and out yelled them so that for the rest of the game they kept quiet. After the game the High School enthusiasts paraded the streets and made merry at the corner of Ninth and Main to the great disgust of the C. H. S. bunch. 32 to 7 was the score of the game.

And we go marching on,
Glory, glory to the High School,
Glory, glory to the High School,
And we go marching on.

Respected by All.

FAIR MEETING THURSDAY

And Business Men are Urged To Be On Hand With- out Fail.

IT IS OF VAST IMPORTANCE

More Stock To Be Sold To Make Bigger Fair Next Year.

A meeting that will have a tremendous hearing on the future of the Pennyroyal fair will be held at the Avalon at 10 o'clock next Thursday. It is urged that all friends of the fair make it a point to be present. The meeting is to formulate plans for the 1916 fair and to consider the issuing of more stock to put the association on a firmer financial basis.

In spite of the rainy week this year, that almost ruined the fair, the deficit was not large and the fair only needs a little more backing to put it on a good footing. The business men cannot afford to treat this call with indifference. Hopkinsville must not be discouraged by one rainy week, but see that the next fair is bigger and better than ever.

BAD AUTO COLLISION

Mrs. Thos. L. Morrow Sustains Serious Cuts and Bruises.

A serious accident occurred Saturday evening on Virginia street, at the corner of 17th, when Dr. Manning Brown's Cole touring car collided with J. H. Morgan's Ford runabout, badly wrecking Mr. Morgan's car and severely injuring Mrs. Thos. L. Morrow, wife of the agent of the Illinois Central Railroad, who was in the car. Dr. Brown's car was driven by his son, Robert, and another boy was with him. The collision occurred as the larger machine came into Virginia from 17th street. The wheel of the Ford was lifted up and Mrs. Morrow was thrown against the windshield and her face cut in many places. The bridge of her nose was broken and her forehead deeply gashed. There are other cuts, one over the left eye, another extending across the left side of her face and still another on the right side of her nose. Her right hand also sustained a cut that required several stitches. Mrs. Morrow was taken into Mr. Geo. E. Randle's house and her husband soon arrived and she was taken to the Stuart Hospital in a short while, where her injuries were attended to. She was removed to her home the next morning, but is still suffering very much.

CAUSE AND CURE FOR PELLAGRA

Formal Announcement Made by the Public Health Service.

SOUTHERN DRs. DISCUSS IT

One-Sided Diet Cause and Well- Balanced Diet Will Cure.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Discovery of the cause and cure of pellagra was announced formally by the public health service. The announcement follows the recent publication of a report by Surgeon Joseph Goldberger on a year of experiments in cooperation with southern state health officials demonstrating the correctness of the theory that a one-sided diet, lacking in proteids would cause the disease and that a well-balanced diet would cure it.

"The spread of this dread malady, which has been increasing in the United States at a terrific rate during the past few years, may now be checked and eventually eradicated," says the service statement. "It is estimated that 75,000 cases of the disease will have occurred in the United States in 1915 and of this number at least 7,500 will have died before the end of the year. In many sections only tuberculosis and pneumonia exceed it as a cause of death."

The final dietary tests were made by Surgeon Goldberger and Assistant Surgeon G. A. Wheeler at the farm of the Mississippi penitentiary, where half a dozen of even convicts were given pellagra by feeding them for five months on bountiful meals consisting chiefly of cereals and sweets and lacking in meats, milk, eggs, beans and peas. The victims were recently pardoned by the governor and are being restored to health through a corrected diet.

MR. MORROW'S CARD.

The card addressed to the people of Kentucky by Hon. Edwin P. Morrow has received much favorable comment. The first claim made for Mr. Morrow was that he would concede nothing in advance of the official canvass of returns. In view of this statement, his card conceding the election of Mr. Stanley was a surprise. It was a well-worded statement, of a distinctly patriotic tone, but the fact that it was issued after a conference of Republican leaders in Louisville, deprives it of any self-sacrificing spirit. It is more than likely that the Republicans do not want any official investigation into the election. They do not want to explain the methods by which nearly 20,000 Republican majority was piled up in one district, in which there were hardly enough Democrats in some precincts for election officers and no local contests to bring out a heavy vote. One clear case of fraud has been discovered and there may have been others in recording the votes, by which returns were systematically padded. If so, the facts ought to be made public and new light may be thrown on Mr. Morrow's determination not to invite exposure of the mountain methods of keeping Democrats out of office. But whatever motives may have influenced him, the public generally is glad that the business of the legislature is not to be interfered with by a contest. The proper place to expose any frauds perpetrated is in the courts, which alone have power to punish the guilty.

WOMAN'S QUEER STUNT.

Miss Julia Choate Crumley, of Atlanta, went to Chicago Saturday and identified as her "husband" a tramp killed by a train in Chicago and held for identification. She said he was Dr. A. Hensley of Quebec, whom she married nearly two years ago in Atlanta. The wedding had never been announced. Though her story was doubted, she was allowed to take the tramp's body to Atlanta.

NOTED NEGRO EDUCATOR DIES

Booker T. Washington Suc- cumbs to Nervous Breakdown.

HURRIED TO HOME FROM N. Y.

Condition Serious Only in Past Week—His Work Among People of His Race.

Tuskegee, Ala., Nov. 15.—Booker T. Washington, the noted negro educator and founder of Tuskegee Institute, died of a nervous breakdown early Sunday at his home here, four hours after his arrival from New York.

The negro leader had been in failing health for several months, but his condition became serious only last week while he was in the east. He realized the end was near, but was determined to make the long trip south to bear out his oft-expressed statement that he had been "born in the south, have lived all my life in the south and expect to die and be buried in the south."

Washington is survived by his widow, three children and four grandchildren. His brother, John H. Washington, is superintendent of industries at Tuskegee institute.

The funeral will be held at Tuskegee institute tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

SKETCH OF WASHINGTON.

Washington was born in slavery near Hale's Ford, Va., in 1857 or 1858. After the emancipation of his race he moved with his family to West Virginia. He was an ambitious boy and saved his money for an education. When he was able to scrape together sufficient funds to pay his stage coach fare to Hampton, Va., he entered Gen. Armstrong's school for negroes there and worked his way through an academic course, graduating in 1875. Later he became a teacher in the Hampton institute, where he remained until 1881, when he organized an industrial school for negroes at Tuskegee. He remained principal of this school up to the time of his death.

The institute started in a rented shanty church and today it owns 3,500 acres of land in Alabama and has nearly 100 buildings valued at $500,000.

Washington won the sympathy and support of leading southerners by a speech in behalf of his race at the Cotton States exposition in Atlanta in 1895. Of undoubted ability and breadth of vision, his sane leadership enabled him to accomplish more for and among the negroes of the United States than any negro of his time.

In addition to his prominence as an educator, Washington gained considerable fame as an author. He received an honorary degree of master of arts from Harvard university in 1896 and was given an honorable degree of doctor of law by Dartmouth college in 1901.

An incident of Washington's career made him a figure of national prominence during the administration of President Roosevelt. He sat down to lunch with the president at the white house, either by formal or informal invitation. There was a storm of protest, particularly from the south, but in spite of the resulting hostility shown toward him by many white persons, Washington continued to exert a widespread influence toward the betterment of his people.

SERBIANS ARE FALLING BACK

Austro-German Forces Report Capture of Many Prisoners.

RUSSIANS HAVE TAKEN RIGA

British and French Troops Have Some Success in Small Offensive Movements.

London, Nov. 15.—The Serbians are falling back from mountain range to mountain range before the Austro-Germans, whose official reports enumerate the capture of a thousand or more prisoners daily, a few guns and quantities of stores. The Serbians, however, are inflicting considerable losses on their pursuers.

Along the eastern front the Serbians appear to be holding their own. The British and French troops, which are receiving reinforcements, are meeting with some success, and besides repulsing Bulgarian attacks have undertaken small offensives with good results.

The Russians have repelled definitely von Hindenberg's drive towards Riga and Dvinsk and along the Dvina river and have taken the offensive, but apparently, owing to the state of the ground, have made only slow progress in the marsh region west of Riga.
